

The Alert French in the Trenches. A Neatly Screened Machine Gun in a French trench in Northern France. This Trench Was Being Heavily Bombarded at the Time the Photograph Was Taken. The Officers in Charge Are Seen Anxiously Watching the Enemy's Movements, to Be Ready to Repel Them When the Final Assault Is Made. (Copyright by International News Service.)

American Horses for French Artillery and Cavalry. Several Thousand Horses, Gathered from All Parts of the United States, Are Being Loaded on to Cattle Boats Sailing from New York, Destined for Havre. The Photograph Shows the Horses on the Ludlow Docks, Yonkers, New York. (Copyright by International News Service.)